DEDICATION

It is with great pride that this annual is dedicated to the graduating class of 1966. With this class will graduate the only remaining members of the original student body of Morse High—and the only four year students in our school's history. The 165 seniors who entered these halls four years ago, and their fellow seniors, symbolize the outstanding efforts and achievements of Morse High School's first student body.

What have these graduating classes accomplished? As a group and as individuals, Morse can rightfully boast. Her seniors have won scholarships amounting to tens of thousands of dollars. They have won local, state and national acclaim; they have shaken hands with the President of the United States, won trips to Washington, D.C., New York, San Francisco, and Europe. Morse's first students made their first varsity football victory by defeating the class A county champions 39-0. Morse can boast C.I.F. champions, a rodeo star who made over $3,000 in a year, several beauty queens, science fair winners, professional ballerinas, singers, and golfers, actors at the Old Globe Theater, and several students who have worked summers at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography. During Morse High's very first year in existence the girls' gymnastic team took first place in the city and Cadet Corps team placed second in its division in state competition. That first year was a challenge. Morse had no student body organization, no school song, cheers, clubs, schedule of social activities or even a mascot. But those students rose to the occasion, and laid a firm foundation for a flourishing school. Seniors can remember Blue Chip Stamps, MCC, and the KGB School Spirit contest. And they can be proud that their class represents the last of this courageous body of students, who made this school what it is.

The student body grows and the work increases, yet our counselors always manage to handle the increasing number of schedules and problems. This year Morse had, for the first time, a full-time work counselor, and an excellent one, in the person of Mr. Skirvin. Helping students with their future plans and easing some of their college fears was our scholarship advisor Miss Margaret Gaydos.

NORWAY

VISITS

Dear Morse students!

I had never thought that ten months of my life could pass as these months here in America and at Morse have. But they have, and now, when there's only a few weeks left, I can just feel sorry that the ten months weren't ten years. I guess especially the seniors feel a certain sadness of having to go away, but for me there is a different sort of sadness. I don't know if I will ever be able to see you or Morse again.

This may sound like something you have heard hundreds of times before, but I honestly believe that this year has been the most valuable in my whole life. And what has made it just so valuable, is the friendliness I have met everywhere. I don't think I have yet met an American I can directly call unfriendly, and the very first day I came to Morse,

I felt welcome. You came up to me and said "hi", you knew me, even though had never see you before, and I just wish you could understand how grateful I really am. America was a dream to me at home in Norway, but with your help this dream became reality, a very wonderful reality.

I know that I will always look back at my stay with a smile and a pile of happy memories. I have come to love this country, and my only hope is that I really will be able to return someday, maybe with a Norwegian husband and all the twelve children I want! May the United States and the Americans remain as wonderful as I found them. Thank you for everything.

With all best wishes for all of you,
Kit

A new face appeared on campus this year — the warm, smiling face of Kirsti Severensen, Morse High's first foreign exchange student. "Kit", who was born in Mosjeon, Norway, made her nervous arrival in San Diego on a Friday the 13th, and was welcomed by her American family, the Powells. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell have two children, Karen 17, and Bobbie 15, and two poodles, Gi Gi, and Louie.

At her school in Norway, Kit participated in A.S.B. and was editor of the school newspaper — Kolon. She is an outdoor girl, and loves fishing, skiing, and taking walks. Girl Scouts is a very active organization in Norway, and Kit is an avid Girl Scout. Her greatest surprise upon seeing America was the multitude of cars, and the discovery that all Americans don't live in the lap of luxury. In addition to these surprises, Kit was more than amazed to see blue and pink and purple Christmas trees! Her overall impressions of America includes visions of freeways, supermarkets, and millions of cars. She thinks Americans are less reserved than her countrymen, and that American boys are more polite than Norwegian boys.

Morse is proud to have helped introduce Norway to America. With such initial success, Morse will be happy to welcome another exchange student next year. Tigers join together in extending to Kit many thanks and sincerest wishes for a bright future.

Here Kit is shown reading an A.S.F. bond. They were sold to raise money for next year's exchange student.

AMERICA

In April several exchange students from other schools visited the Morse campus. Here some of them are shown in the graphic arts room, hearing about the production of an annual.

DISPATCH

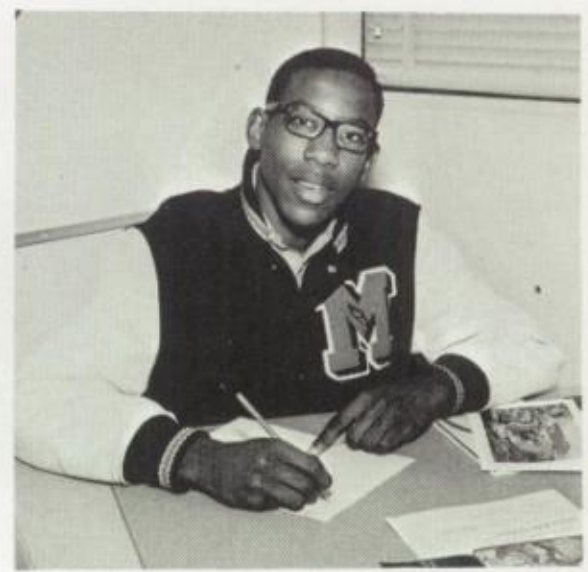

This year the Morse Dispatch Staff did a good job initiating a new financial plan. For the first time in Morse's history, the students were required to pay for their school paper. The Dispatch Staff had its production classes 2nd and 4th periods, but devoted members often spent their lunch time, free periods, and after school hours, working in room 403.

DRAMA PRODUCTION

DRAMA PRODUCTION

The voices, the shouts, and the strange noises coming from Mr. Wyman's seventh period class were all part of Morse's drama production. All of the rehearsals and practices resulted in three fine plays; "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," "Lo and Behold," and "Hasty Heart." The students not only studied acting but also such theatrical techniques as make-up, and lighting.

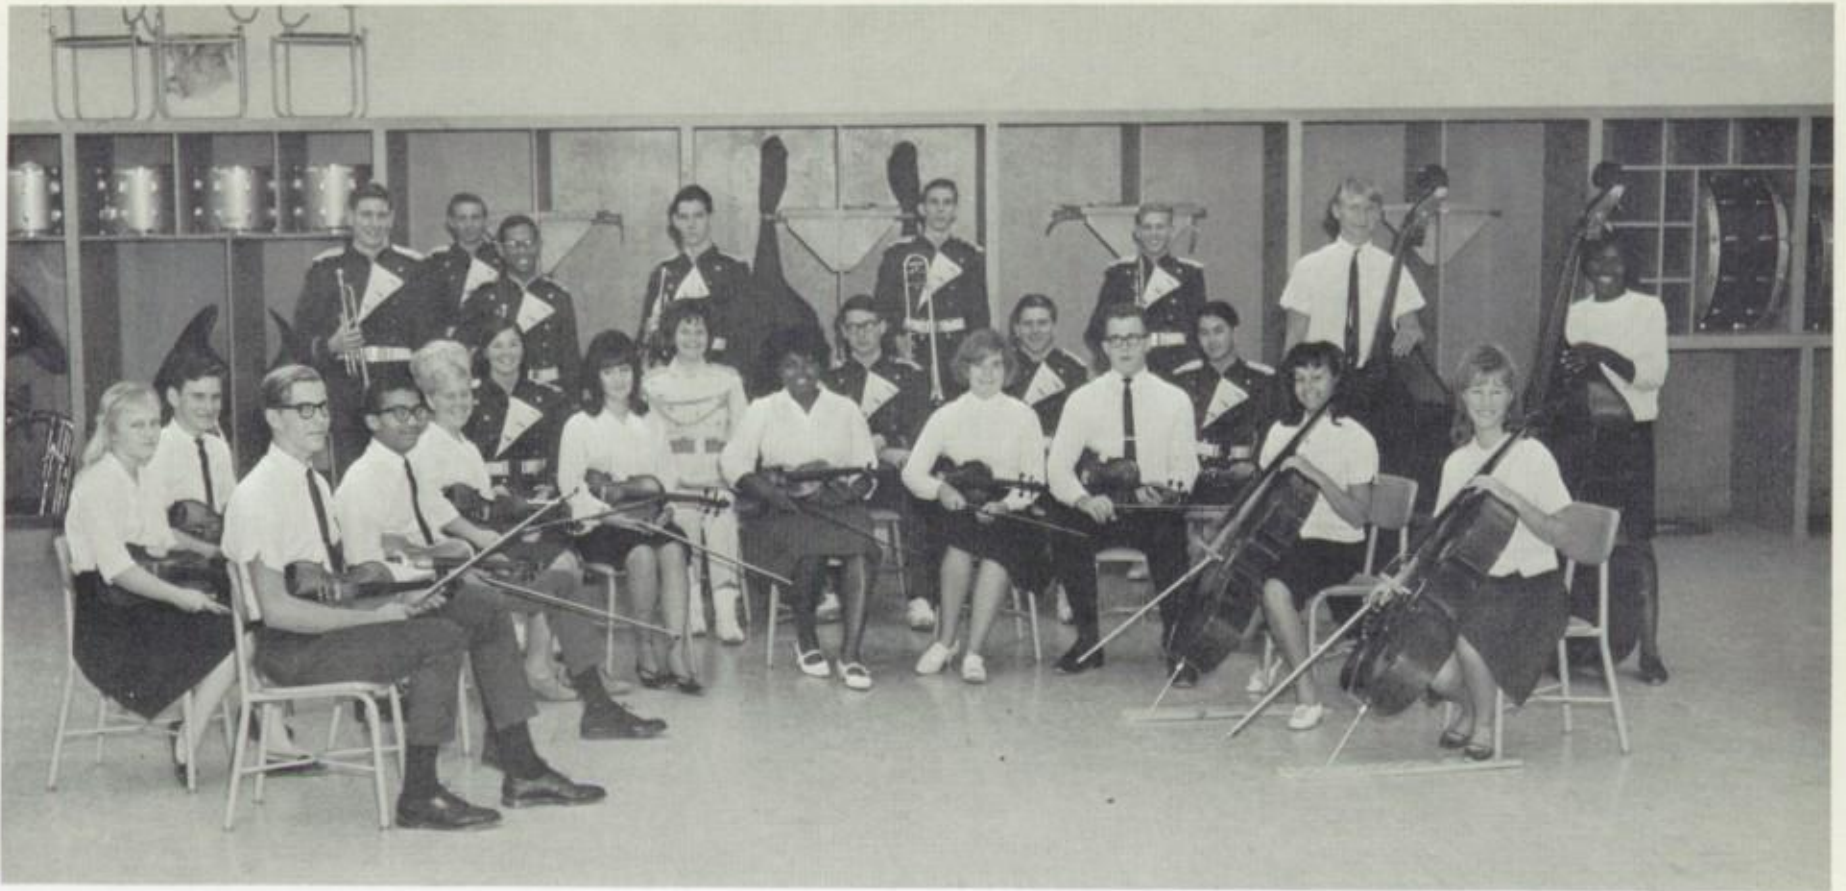

COMPETITIVE FORENSICS

If anyone should wonder where the orators of tomorrow will come from, he needs only walk in on a session from Morse's Forensics Team. Students study a variety of speech forms such as impromptu, extemporaneous, debating, and dramatic interpretation. In March, Morse played host to the city debating competition.

COMPETITIVE FORENSICS

ORCHESTRA

ORCHESTRA

This year has seen the addition of several new members to Morse's orchestra. This new talent tempered with the experience of returning students has brought to Spring Concert, Christmas Concert and various assemblies a new sound. Under the guiding hand of Mr. Jenkins, the orchestra has made an excellent showing at music festivals around the city.

PEP BAND

What school pep band plays "Tequila" and "Sugar Lips" at football games? Ours does. It's this sort of creativity and spirit that keeps Morse rooters cheering at all basketball games and pep rallies. Tigers can thank this band for putting a finishing touch on our already lively cheers.

If you listened closely at Christmas time you found that you were being serenaded with your favorite yuletide melodies. They were presented by Morse's own wandering minstrels, the Blue and Gold Choir. The choir does a fine job of representing Morse at various events.

The Bel Canto is composed of Morse's best singers. Easily recognized by their blue outfits or sport coats, they never fail to give an outstanding performance.

The Morse High marching band functions dually as a marching band at all football games, and as a pep band for the basketball season.

Peggy Laaker is the first girl drum major in the history of Morse. A difficult job for a girl because of the weight of the baton, Peggy nevertheless did an outstanding job.

CALIFORNIA CADET CORPS

From Morse's very beginning, four years ago, the California Cadet Corps has been a source of pride. Each year they have brought to Morse medals, awards, and trophies. Cadets attending the 1966

Military Leadership Camp at Camp Marston wiped out all competition by taking an unprecedented first place in each of eight categories, a record which will never be surpassed.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The privilege of serving as A.S.B. President has indeed been an experience, and the memories formed by associating with hard working people will remain unforgettable. Morse has, over four short years, built an outstanding tradition of achievement and success. Only through the tremendous efforts of every department and every student has this been possible. The graduating Seniors carry with them the distinction of being the only four-year class and a list of achievements that will remain a challenge to future "Tigers."

Sincerely,

Boswell Inniss

The Interns are hard at work finishing a football banner for the game that night.

The program for A.S.B. Interns was varied throughout the year. But their goal is to prepare students who are interested in Student Government. The Interns rotated to various tasks as the need arose. BOSWELL INNISS

If only one word could be used to describe Boswell Inniss, Boy of the Year, it would be "versatile". Bos is A.S.B. President, Key Club Vice-President and a member of the gymnastics and wrestling teams. He has participated in band and orchestra and last year held the position of head cheerleader. This outstanding service to his school has not gone unrewarded and in addition to being selected Boy of the Year, Bos has been voted Boy of the Month for April, Best all Around, and Best Build! Morse is proud of Bos and his achievements, and would like to thank him for his years of dedicated service to our fine school.

SANDY SUGGS

Happiness may be a warm puppy, but friendliness is Sandy Suggs, and Morse High School students were proud to prove it by presenting Sandy with their annual Girl of the Year award. Noted for her sparkling personality, warm understanding, and frequent giggles, Sandy, is always found hard at work as Girls' League President, and A.S.B., Les Tigres, and Drill Team member. She loves the beach, camping, Italian food, happy people, and buying clothes. The A.S.B. Ball was held in the Safari Room on the eve of February 25, 1966. The couples danced to the music of the Centurys, wondering who would be the A.S.B. King and Queen.

The answer came as Howard Hydorn, Senior Class President, announced Alejo Hao and Linda Sprenger as the King and Queen. Boswell Inniss, A.S.B. President, completed the tradition by crowning Alejo and Linda. The King and Queen, with their attendants, reigned for the remainder of the evening as they danced in the gay atmosphere.

The Azurlees (Girls' League) is a service organization composed of all the girls at Morse High School. This year they have been extremely active in planning activities that have come to be a tradition to them as well as to the rest of the school. Some of these activities include the Big and Little Sister Tea, the Haystack Hoedown, Girl of the Month, the Mother Daughter Dessert, the Father Daughter Potluck, and the Girl of the Year. Because of these many activities the Girls' League was given a city-wide award for their promotion of student activities and practices which helped to develop high standards of personal conduct.

FADS AND

FASHIONS

A new mode of fashion is the "total look," here Esther models hers.

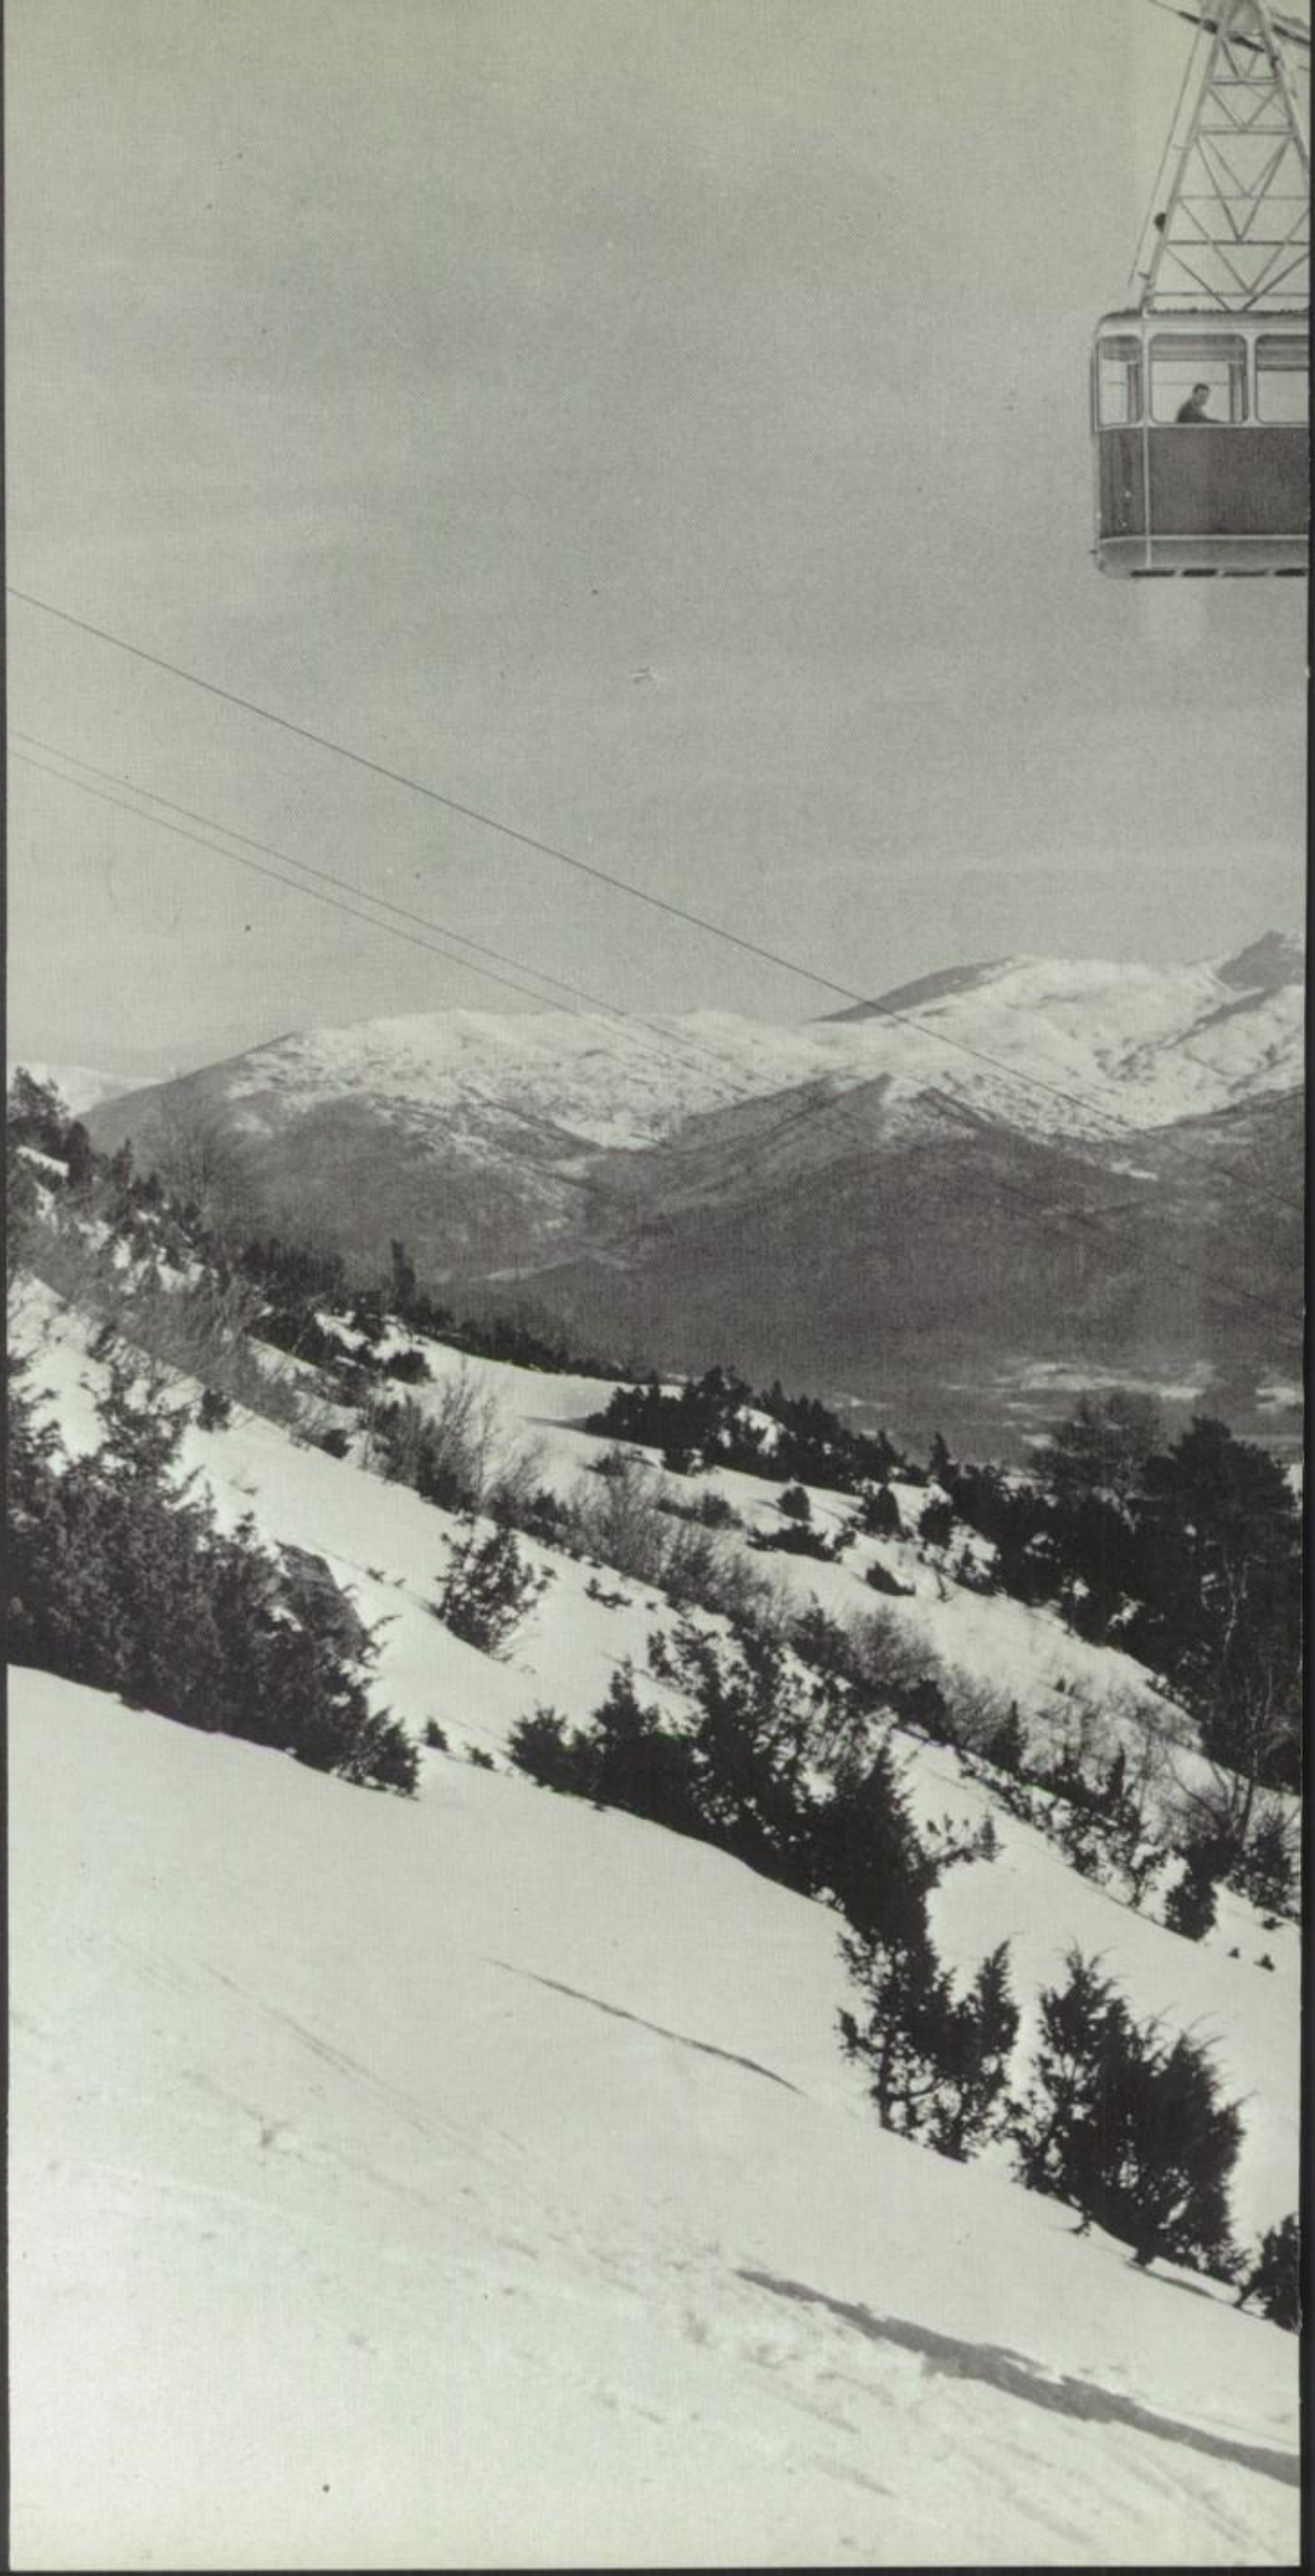

Animal coats made a hit for girls and boys during the cold days. Scott shows his preferred leopard print.

An "in" thing among the guys is the tucked in sweater-vest shown by Gary.

Dana models her "poor boy" blouse which became very popular this year. With it is the new "hip-hugger" skirt.

PLAY THE CROSSROADS

Dirty Work at the Crossroads, written by Bill Johnson, was presented to the student body on November 2nd, 3rd, and 4th by the ASB and the Drama Guild. This play is a new version of a Gay Nineties Melodrama, with only one setting and with a cast composed of seven women and three men. The story tells in a laughable style the tear-jerking story of Nellie Lovelace, the innocent beauty; Adam Oakhart, our brave hero; and Munro Murgatroyd, (boo) the nasty villain. The cast provided a program of humorous entertainment for all those who attended.

Help! Save me!

The entire cast gathers as the Widow Lovelace is dying.

GAA-FACULTY VOLLEYBALL GAME

Muscles Kennedy manages to get the ball over.

The major activity for G.A.A. this year was the volleyball game against the women faculty on March 25 in the gym. Participating were G.A.A. members from each class and the courageous women faculty. The faculty managed to beat the sophomore class. The juniors showed the teachers who was boss by walking all over them. Compassionate seniors allowed the aging opposition to redeem face by generously losing.

LETTERMEN-FACULTY BASKETBALL GAME

The hilarious and action-packed faculty game was held on Wednesday, November 24th, in the mighty Tiger gym. Making the difficult challenge for the aging faculty this year were those fearless men from the great Lettermen Club. The faculty had to fight their hardest in a tremendous effort to win the game. Some of the more able-bodied players from the faculty were Flash Flanigan, Rebound Rodriguez, Over-Guarding Leeson, Free-Throw Fackerell, and Hi-Step Huyser. With a miraculous stroke of luck and sympathy on the part of the Lettermen, the faculty succeeded in winning the game.

It's got to come down sometime!

1965 HOME COMING QUEEN

This year's Homecoming Queen was crowned in the afternoon Homecoming Assembly by A.S.B. President, Boswell Inniss. The annual honor was bestowed upon pretty and petite Sally Major. Sally is involved in many school activities including Sigmas, Prom Committee, Les Tigres, Dispatch Staff and Girls' League. An active member of the student body, Sally is known around campus for her personality and cute smile.

Morse High's second annual Homecoming was held on Friday, November 19. Due to rain, plans were made for postponement of Homecoming activities and special assemblies were held in the gym for the crowning of the Queen. Homecoming activities went on as scheduled and proved to be the best Morse has had. Entertainment at half-time was put on beautifully by the drill team and band. Other halftime highlights included the presentation of the Queen and her attendants, and the pageantry of floats. The winning float was entered by International and Spanish Clubs.

DRAMA GUILD PLAY

"LO AND BEHOLD"

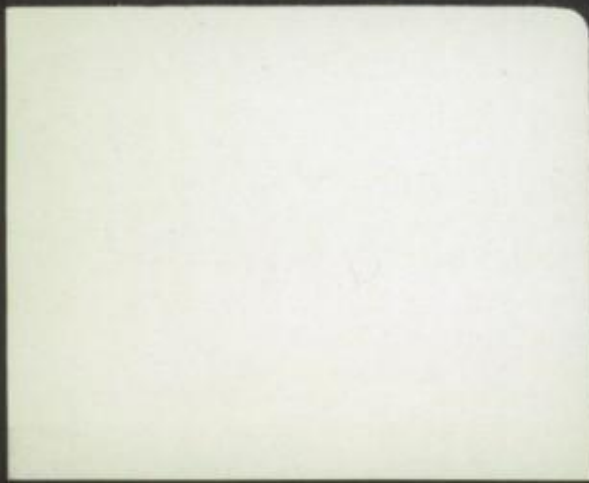

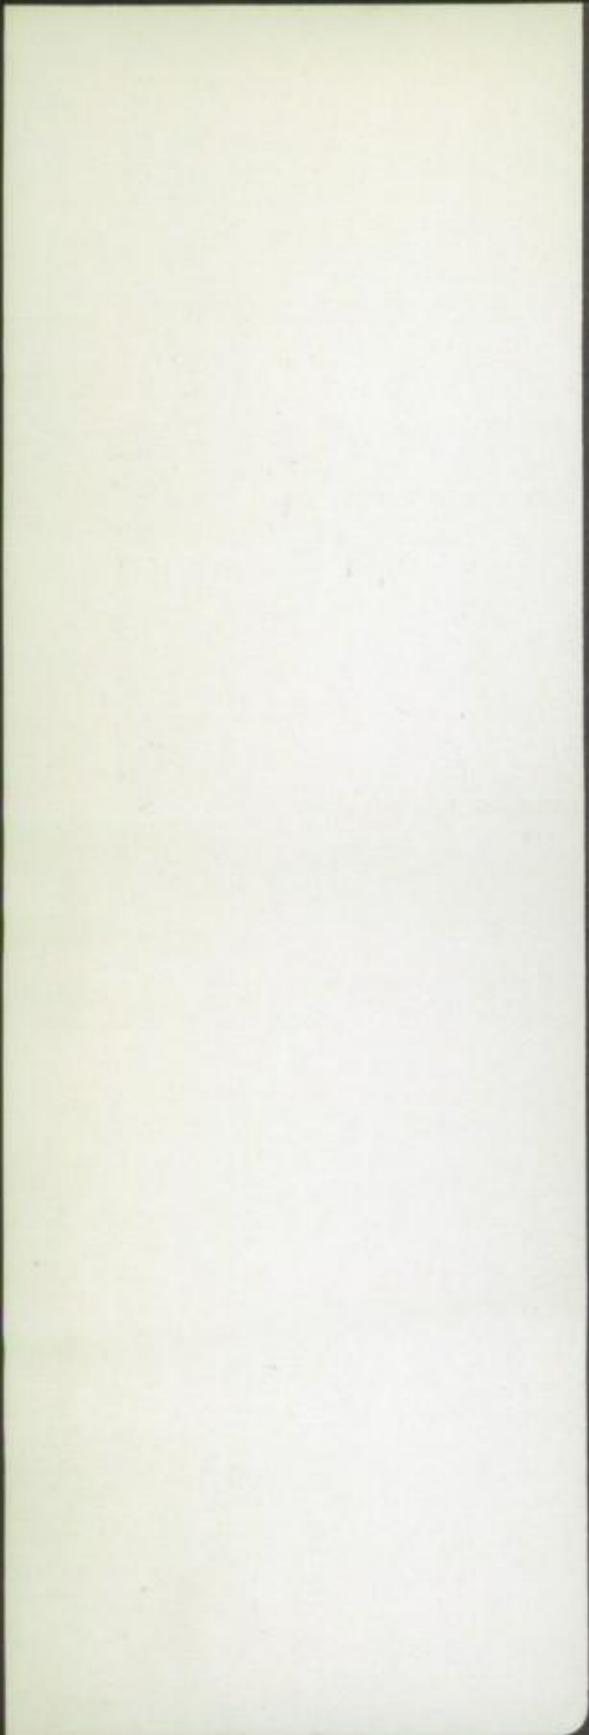

This delightful comedy is a tale of three spirits, and a couple of warm bodies, who seem to ruin everything for one former Nobel Prize winner, Milo. Unfortunately, Milo, due to an over-active stomach and an under-active heart, died from a sumptuous meal! He is unable to scare off the squatters and, as if this weren't enough, the pretty cook who prepared the fatal dishes returns to the house and is mistaken for Milo's illegitimate daughter! "Lo and Behold", the Drama Guild production for this year played February 17th and 18th.

APPRECIATION

Mr. Penman

The seniors would like to thank Miss Pinson and Mr. Penman for the many long and diligent hours they have spent programming and helping us with our problems. For the past three years they have guided our class not only in counseling capacities but also in various other school functions. They were more than just counselors, they were friends to all of us. Without their help it would have been impossible for our class to have achieved such success.

The fortifications were completed under Philip III. To further the prosperity of the town a most liberal charter was granted and in addition the trade of the port was artificially fostered by a decree requiring that every vessel navigating within sight of the lights should put in there. This ordinance remained in force to the reign of Louis XIV. The town, although steadily increasing in population, remains important historically as an outstanding example of mediaeval city planning. Aiguemortes is the meeting-place of several canals connecting with Beaucaire, the Petit Rhône and the Mediterranean. Fishing and the manufacture of soda are industries, with trade in coal, fruits and wine. In the surrounding country there are important vineyards and olive groves. The town is a fine example of a medieval town.
